New York, Feb. 10.-Beautiful beyond description was the ball masque of Mrs. Bradley-Martin tonight, Columns have been written about the affair and nictures have been drawn, but the fancy of the reporter and the artist did not picture scenes one-half as lovely as were presented in the Waldorf.

For weeks Mrs. Martin has worked in the preparation of the sumptuous affair. Her efforts were richly rewarded. The bitter criticisms hurled at her were forgotten and the hundreds who were present vied in making her the happiest wo-

Arrayed in raiment costly beyond the dream of the originals, were the men and women who in the extreme and made a picture of nois Steel was a prominent feature in the appeared tonight as ladies and gentlemen of the olden periods.

At midnight the great ball was at its height. All society was there gathered to portray the regal splendor of past cen-turies. The great ball room of the Waldorf, beautiful with a wealth of roses and fragrant flowers, was then a scene of grandeur never before equalled in this country. Courtiers of old, of every clime, mingled with grand dames and ladies, kings and queens, princes and princesses, but here and there the old spirit of loyalty had manifested itself in the presence of colonial, men and women of the old and quiet days in America.

Great social functions of the past in this city were eclipsed, even the memorable Vanderbilt ball of 1883, with which, since then, all other affairs have seemed to suffer in comparison. It was more than a mile post in New York's history, it was the event of a de-

Arrangements for receiving the guests could be. The guests alighted from their carriages at 13 West Thirty-third street, which is the private residence of Manager Bolota, of the hotel, and went directly to the second floor of the hotel, where sixty apartments had been set aside as dressing rooms. The guests were received by Mrs. Martin in the small room. The scheme of decorations in this room was that of the time of Louis XV, and before the dais passed the conterfeit presentments of all the prominent people of that time, to mingle in picturesque confusion with characters of other days. After being received by the hostess, who stood upon a raised dais under a canopy of rare tapestry, the guests passed through a flower-lined corridor directly into the large ball room. In the early portion of the evening dancing in the main ball room on the or was general, but it was not until all the guests had paid their respects to Mrs. Bradley-Martin and she had been escorted to the ball room propor that the fancy dress ball was form-

In the small gallery were members of the Twenty-second regiment band, and the Hungarian band. The music sudden-ly stopped, for just a noment, to be broken by a flourish of trumpets as Mrs. Bradley-Martin and her escort, Mr. John Jacob Astor, entered the room. A moment later they had taken their places at the head of the room, and there was another flourish of the trum-pers which told that the quadrille Phonneur, arranged by Mrs. William

Astor, was about to open. The forming of the first figure, "The Salute," was like the turning of pages of history. The characters gathered from all sections of the room. There was Mrs. Bradley-Martin, wearing a Marie Stuart costume, copied from an old plate of that queen's time; Mrs. John Jacob Astor in a Louis VI court costume; Mr. I. Townsend Martin as a cavaller of the urt of Louis XIII, and Mrs. Henry Lohr in Louis XV court costume.

From another section of the room came Mrs. Orme Wilson, looking picturesque in a Louis XVI court dress of white and silver brocade, which followed the elaborate designs of the period. and Mrs. Whitney Warren, wearing a costume of pale blue brocade and silk after the style of the time of Louis XV. his partner, Mrs. Whitney Warren, as a cavalier of the court of their places in this quadrille were: Mrs. Lee Tailer, Mr. Craig Wadsworth, Miss Gerry, Mr. Conter Hitchcock, Miss Lena Van Alen, Miss Madeline Cutting, Mrs. Stuveysant Fish. As these partners waited for the open-ing bars of the music, the scene was the most beautiful of the night. Mrs. Etta Perry, of Hickman, Tenn., says:

"I had been flooding for nearly twelve months never stopping for more than twenty-four hours. Physicians told me they could not cure me and I was without hope. By God's mercy I heard of Mc-Elree's Wine of Cardui. I have used three bottles of it and it has entirely relieved me."

Mrs. L. M. Witherspoon, of Dumas, Ark., says: "Before I commenced using Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, I had been in bad health for a long time. My menses came twice a month and were very profuse. I had almost constant headache, backache, pains in lower abdomen, great constipation of the bowels. I have used only four bottles of the Wine, taking Black-Draught when needed. Now my menstruation is as regular as clock-work, and I feel like a new woman."

Mrs. M. R. McGhee of Greenville, Texas, says:

"I first used McElree's Wine of Cardui three years ago. I miscarried in March and continued to have flooding spells every time I would sit up, until July. I had two doctors, but they gave me no relief. After reading Dr. McElree's book on Female Diseases my husband got me two bottles of Wine of Cardui and that cured me."

When the menstrual period lasts too long or occurs oftener than every twenty-eighth day, prompt treatment is imperative. Otherwise the blood becomes impoverished, the nervous system prostrated, and indigestion, weak eyes, impaired memory and general debility will result. A woman's system cannot, unaided, withstand this drain. If the menstrual period is not right in every way, Wine of Cardui should be taken to make it right. This pure wine is used throughout the country to regulate the menstrual function. It is the best medicine to do that. To get relief by this treatment you are not forced to submit to a physician's examination or discuss unpleasant subjects with him. You can get a bottle of Wine of Cardui from any dealer and adopt this treatment in the privacy of your own home. $1.00 per bottle,
